THE SITUATION IN FRENCH NORTH AFRICA

Hitler's Methods Versus Petain's Instructions To Weygand

Hitler's Hour Approaches
For Swift Conquest Action

the Libyan-Tunisian frontier, where they could have made contact once again with their former French allies. But Greece declared its intention of fighting even in the event of the inevitable German intervention and the British went on the defensive in Libya, transferring troops from there.

●Opportunity Lost By

General Weygand

If Weygand has ever intended to fight against the Germans that was his moment. Four German panzer divisions had not then been transferred to African soil. Africa could have been swept clear of all Italian forces. Spain was neither ready nor willing then to intervene against French Morocco.

He had only some 300-odd planes, mostly Curtiss-Wright based far south near Marrakech, and he lacked every kind of supply including even ammunition for small arms.

But supplies and ammunition were not badly needed for such a move at that moment and they could have been transported there from America. Is that possible now or in the period when Hitler starts cleaning North Africa and the western Mediterranean?

Since that critical moment—assuming that Weygand was ever capable of fighting against the Germans—Hitler has acted quickly but quickly in preparation for the moment when he will take the initiative in that theatre.

On Feb. 6 five Dornier transport planes flew into Casablanca with German officers and soldiers. Until that date civilian control and authority had been in charge of German and Italian officials.

The two, moreover, had their spies and agents throughout the whole of the French Empire in Africa. But they had not sent down military units.

●Germans Are Located

In Key Towns

Since Feb. 6 the Germans have arrived daily and steadily, according to trustworthy quarters. There is no key town with less than 200 German officers and men. They are not allowed to walk in the streets in uniforms. They have been given whole apartment houses or hotels for their lodging. I have checked the names of their dwelling places in cities as far apart as Casablanca, Oran, Marrakech and Dakar.

The German infiltration comes at a moment when two things are likely to have a very important effect on French officers in Africa. The Germans have got into the Deuxieme bureau, the famous secret service of the French army. As a result the Germans know exactly what the French do and do not know and every French officer is aware that what he does and reports is known to the Germans so that he can be called up for arrest at any hour merely for doing nothing in an intelligent or capable way.

Nothing is so likely to undermine the morale of French officers who, while carrying out the orders of Vichy, have been waiting, nevertheless, for the time when Weygand would fight once more on the British side. This is what they have hoped for when they have gone to Morocco as reserve officers or when they have enlisted in answer to advertisements in Vichy or when they have flown planes to Weygand instead of flying on to British lines.

●French Impressed

By Nazi Victories

Similarly, morale will be flattened by the success of the Germans in Cyrenaica and in the Balkans. Nothing can save French Africa or bring it in on the British side short of serious German reverses or an immediate entry of America into the war. The French are impressed with German victories.

Knowing this, the Germans have suddenly tightened the control of their secret police in the unoccupied zone. In Marseilles in the last 10 days the Germans have started herding Frenchmen together on the sidewalks, putting them in trucks and taking them to concentration camps by the hundreds.

There papers are inspected carefully. A man whose political and military record shows that the Germans have nothing to fear from him is quickly released. Others are held three or four days. Others are taken to concentration camps. Others are shot.

Simultaneously, in Vichy, the Germans have started a campaign to round up Frenchmen and foreigners they have been unable to locate heretofore, according to a reliable informant recently escaped from Vichy through the underground.

●Officials Are Given

Death List

Important French police officials are called in, given a list of ten names, told to have them or their bodies within a given time or be responsible with their own lives. A French police inspector found that an important anti-Nazi German on his list had committed suicide. He dug up the body and took it to the Germans before they would be satisfied.

These signs that Hitler's hour approaches for swift action to complete the conquest comes when the French food shortage is becoming acute so that the Germans can scarcely expect to bleed the French of much more in the next four-month period.

Trustworthy figures will suffice on wheat, meat, sugar and fats. The 1940 wheat crop was under 40,000,000 quintals as against 71,000,000 for 1939 and against normal French needs of 80,000,000. Last year's crop was 60,000,000, a year's crop than for 1940, fertilizers are lacking, there is no gasoline for tractors, binders and the like, livestock has been requisitioned and there is a complete absence of such things as butter, cord, so that what cannot be stocked as usual.

●Half Of France's

Cattle Are Now Lost

In 1940 France had 3,500,000 head of cattle. The Germans have taken more than half and the rest have been virtually no fodder. The 1940 sugar crop stands at 400,000

Finance Minister Gives Information To House

Of Commons

OTTAWA, May 14.—(UPI)—The war has created some 20 new Canadian millionaires, said the Finance Minister today in the House of Commons.

Mr. Colwell acknowledged at once he could not substantiate the report, but suggested a breakdown of income taxpayer groups would answer it.

Finance Minister Illey read figures to show that for the first full year ended March 31, 1940, there were 20 Canadians with taxable income in excess of $50,000 a year, with a total income of $47,000,000.

But the minister declined to give further details of this highest income bracket group and said he did not have the figures for the last taxation period to compare with those he had given.

Important announcements The House in committee on ways and means, with its excise tax and income tax changes yesterday. All the former were adopted with brief debate but no progress was made with the latter.

At its evening session the committee considered main estimates of the revenue department.

Before the house went into committee two important government announcements were made.

1.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced the government had fixed a minimum price on wheat and gave details of its operation.

2.—Minister of Marketing announced the United Kingdom ministry of food has received for 120,000 bushels of Canadian wheat futures, delivered by July 31, 1941.

During a brief discussion of the Excise Act changes, the House today took up the key to taxation questions that the government has decided against imposing any additional tax on goods because of the danger of encouraging smuggling, illicit distilling and illicit sales.

Tax on beer The only change was to increase the tax on beer to an amount which was believed equivalent to that on other beverages.

This brings the beer tax to about double what it was when the war started, but the government has increased it nearly double in a previous war budget.

An appeal came from several members that guest children from Britain be sent to Canada under private arrangement or adopted children for income tax purposes.

Mr. Illey said there would be no change, but would make a contribution of about $100 per child from the treasury, he said.

He explained some income tax laws were altered in 1917 because governments had refused to allow exemption for foster-children.

Exemption is allowed for children adopted in Canada under a British government scheme and Mr. Illey intimated the government would not go beyond that.

Mr. Illey was asked to report on a proposal to the provinces to let them make their own budget that they abandon personal and corporate income tax field and accept compensation from the federal treasury.

PROVINCIAL ATTITUDE

He said all provinces had replied except Ontario. British Columbia had accepted the principle and he believed others, apart from Ontario which had given no indication, were following the general with a disposition to accept.

In his reference to war multipliers Mr. Colwell said he had no objection to the increased income tax and believed it would be paid cheerfully, even though it might be too deeply into the pockets of the low-salary group.

But he said there was a feeling abroad that great wealth was being accumulated in a few places. He urged that information be made available to either confirm or refute that feeling.

Mr. Illey said that if the income tax branch gave detailed information on individual incomes above the $50,000 a year class, it would more fully satisfy curiosity. It was not, however, had been considered available to reveal individual incomes.

HIGHER TAX FAVORED

—Hon. Earl Rowe (Cdn., Rutherford-Brown) urged the government to raise taxes as against $50,000 for 1939 with current prospects worse.

Fats come from Africa but the Germans take virtually all of them and the French mistakenly sowed only seeds, counting on the Germans granting them some imports from Africa. Actually, the French export every southern French port and they confiscate virtually all foodstuffs and fats coming from Africa.

The next two months find France between harvest and faced with starvation for the first time unless wheat and the like continue to come in from America. Unable to loaf France in this period, the Germans will have small reason not to complete their invasion in the drab period before foodstuffs begin to come in again.

(The fifth article in this new series by John T. Whitaker will appear exclusively in The Bulletin on Friday, May 16.)

Duke Sets Example

Because the over-accented threat of gas failed to materialize in a year and a half of war, many Britons now leave their masks at home and rarely bother about them at all. The ministry of home security recently began a drive to re-ignite interest in anti-gas preparedness and none other than the Duke of Kent is setting the example here. He is donning his mask during an inspection.

HEAVY BOMBERS
PLACED AT TOP
U. S. PRIORITIES

By MACK JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(UPI)—American defense officials have put long-range bombers and their engines virtually at the top of the "spiral-up" production list.

It was learned today that a revised listing of priorities in the defense and War Relocation programs.

EXCLUSIVE

Compiled on the basis of shortages and urgency placed the big four-engine bombers and their engines in a so-called 1-B status, just behind the top 1-A rating assigned machine tools.

Previously, aircraft engines had a 1-C listing, and planes, generally, a 1-D status.

The new listing for bombers, considered vital for British long-range operations over Germany and needed by the U.S. air force in western hemisphere defense, puts them in a class with such things as facilities for harbor and Panama Canal defenses, small navy ship and cargo ship production, small arms ammunition, and aircraft guns.

U.S. department officials are developing plans for immediate expansion of facilities to produce four-engine bombers. It was understood that funds from some $1,000,000,000 available for expansion of munition plant facilities will be turned into this field to get production up to 500 bombers per month.

To Head Recruiting

OTTAWA, May 14.—(UPI)—

Officers commanding in each of Canadian military districts, aided by a central committee at national defense headquarters, will carry on direction of the campaign to provide 25,000 recruits for the Canadian Army.

Army announced Sunday by Defence Minister Balcan, defence headquarters said Tuesday.

except administrative officers as well as non-commissioned officers and men from payment of income and national defense tax.

A. M. Richardson (C.C.F., Mackenzie) said the taxes on higher incomes were still far too low.

Victor Quelch (N.D., Acadia) said he would be "quite prepared" to see taxation considerably increased on higher incomes.

In section on cost was expected to more than a decent standard of living, Mr. Quelch said.

They should not have surplus funds for investment. If the taxes on higher incomes were raised sufficiently there would be no need to sell bonds and no money with which to buy bonds.

Mr. Illey said he thought the usual disincentive of paying for relief all persons of large incomes to a common level of $2,000 a year would cause more harm than would be warranted by the additional revenue since it would come as against $50,000 for 1939 with current prospects worse.

RAIL WORKERS' BONUS DEMAND UNDER REVIEW

Interpretation Of Cost-Of-Living Order Before Board

By WILLIAM STEWART

MONTREAL, May 14.—(UPI)—Interpretation of an order-in-council providing for wartime cost-of-living bonuses was in dispute Tuesday as a consultation board continued to review the application of more than 100,000 railroad workers for such a bonus.

While the railways contended the bonus was unwarranted because the standard of living of the workers had not been impaired according to the board, representatives of the employees said their application was justified by a 7.2 per cent increase in the cost-of-living index of August, 1939.

MEASURED FROM 1939 P. H. Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, told the board that the purpose of the order, and bonus application, changes in the cost-of-living are measured only from August, 1939.

"The companies' application of the term 'basic standard of living' to the period 1936-37 appears purporting to ignore the order's recognition of August, 1939, as the proper base period for measuring changes," said a brief submitted by Mr. Hall.

George Hodge, manager of the department of personnel of the C.P.R., who spoke for both sides, said that the employee contention that the order-in-council is "intended to provide for automatic application as the cost-of-living index of the month of August, 1939" found "no support whatever in the language of the order-in-council."

Mr. Hodge admitted that the only question before the board was "whether the 'basic standard of living' of the employee has been so impaired by an increase in the cost-of-living as to justify . . . a bonus."

The main contention of the railways in their refusal to grant the bonus, as outlined by Mr. Hodge, was that the application was not justified because the purchasing power of the workers' salaries was 25 per cent above that of the 1936-37 period.

Mr. Hodge recalled also the contention that while the situation of the workers was better despite the cost-of-living increase than in 1936-37, the position of the railways had suffered and their combined operating revenues for 1940 was 17.2 per cent below that of 1936-37.

The officer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McCarthy, of Saskatoon, received a cablegram from the British air ministry Tuesday stating their son had been missing since operation in Iraq.

The hearing was adjourned until today.

JAPANESE GET RUDE JOLT BY HESS' FLIGHT

TOKYO, May 14.—(UPI)—

The smallest echo of the Axis received a rude jolt when the news was made public that the Duke of Hesse had landed in Scotland.

Reports from Tokyo say the Japanese public appear to be shocked by Hesse's flight.

The official Japanese propaganda agency is trying hard to play down the importance of the event. It was said that while the flight is unusual, it has no serious political significance. According to Tokyo, Hitler has been directing foreign policies of Germany himself.

2,600 Men Wanted

Northern Alberta's quota of the 30,000 recruits needed for Canada's land forces overseas is given as 2,600 men. About ten per cent of the total number of recruits in past years have been from the province, and the others for mechanized and armored formations. For the latter, men with mechanical training and experience are desired, but others can be trained in the Army trade schools. The opportunity is therefore open to all who have the physical and moral qualifications.

This is the first time that a positive and urgent call for recruits has been issued. There is every reason to suppose that the quota will be met in time to meet the needs of the war. Northern Alberta has never, in the present war or in the former one, failed to provide its full quota when such a call came. It will doubtless keep up the fine record on this occasion.

Music In War-time

Results of the 34th annual Alberta music festival, which has now reached its half-way mark, indicate that the standard of music in this province is being fully maintained. The remarks of the adjudicators have justified this belief.

Alberta music festival carried on during the Great War of 1914-1918 and is all set to carry on throughout the present conflict. This is a satisfactory record, for the festival was a success more than once necessary, to provide an emotional escape and stimulant for the people. Dr. Arthur Wood, one of the judges, has said that he has rightly said that what is needed in war time, is not less music, but more and better music. He will continue his statement that the festival is one of the means whereby more and better music can be provided. The competition offers a medium of expression for the feelings, varied and many, which the various branches of vocal and instrumental music.

Probably in the war, there are some reductions in the number of adult competitors this year. But the shortage in this respect, happily, is more than counterbalanced by the larger number of young competitors. This insures that the festival will be continued and that the young people will receive opportunity to show their talent and realize that children of countries over-run by the forces of aggression have been deprived of such services.

Notice is sent out by the post office department, that hereafter Canadian mails will go by air.

Scipio—After foiling the half-breeds with false promises ever since 1887, the government, now that the elections are safely over, has taken a position on the question and declares in so many words that it has no intention of making good the pledges of its supporters in this connection. It is well for everybody to have the position of the government on this question clearly defined, so that the half-breeds shall no longer be deceived by false promises and false promises, and will know how much reliance is to be placed on the assertions of their representatives.

The taking over of these buildings will cause dislocations in several directions. University and college students will have to find accommodation outside the campus near provision will have to be made to carry on the normal life of the city during the Edmonton's Summer Fair will have to be abandoned for the duration of the war. In the making of these readjustments, it is to be expected that the authorities concerned have of course shown a willingness to cooperate. The public will heartily approve their readiness to give right of way to the all-important matter of training arms in the largest possible numbers and under the best available conditions.

From The News

By Harold L. Weir

Now if Lindbergh, Wheeler et al would only eliminate Rudolf Hess and fly to Germany, we would be happy.

Side Glances

By Galbraith

I am frightfully angry and all that, but, lacking more solid knowledge of what Hess has to say, I cannot get too excited about the favorable significance of this spectacular and rather silly adventure.

It seems unreasonable and dangerous to feel curiosity about high hopes of the consequences of this melodramatic act at the very moment when every British person should be making a maximum effort to contribute full energies and money to the war.

Just when our Victory Loan and recruiting drives are starting in Canada, it would not require much Pollyanna nonsense to divert our attention. Not to be too uncharitable, it is well to remember that some few Canadians might be tempted to do this.

Suppose we take the Hess incident on its face value and presume that the fellow has fled from Germany with the idea of betraying Germany.

What exactly could he do? He could not arm and has no following and possesses no authority except that which he derives from Hitler. Hitler made him and Hitler can unmake him.

If Nazism were a composite structure, made up of the individual contributions of several men, the withdrawal of Hess might cause the collapse of the structure. The other thing, it is the single-handed career of Adolf Hitler and only Hitler's death or removal could destroy the structure.

In the alternative, if Nazism is the creation of more than one man, Hitler is still the dominant figure. The other thing, it is the single-handed career of Adolf Hitler and only Hitler's death or removal could destroy the structure.

It is true that Hess could bubble a few military and diplomatic assets. What difference would it make in the long run?

Plans can always be changed. The success of any military plan (and no one can deny Hitler's aptitude for it) lies almost entirely in the hands of the man who executes it. No matter how good the plan, it is no matter of alteration, instantaneous malfeasance is the first essential of good strategy.

Suppose Hess did tell all the Nazi secrets. Knowing that the Nazis are such prodigious liars, who among the British could afford to take the risk of believing him?

Does it overlook this possibility, either that the Germans would be delighted to preserve their military prestige by being able to explain any subsequent defeat in these words: "Hess failed."

The smell of apocryphal hangs over this whole performance like a miasma.

There is always a first time for everything. It is not difficult to disbelieve that political leaders in their right mind might not fly over to the enemy in a huff.

Such a thing has happened so seldom that it is almost impossible to believe that it has happened. It is almost impossible to believe that it has happened.

After all, intelligent people must form their judgments on the basis of experience and, of course, the infallible calculations of Mr. Hitler.

It is said (I said it myself yesterday) that the Germans have nothing to gain by sending Hess to Britain. It is said that the Hess mission is a brain trust mission. I am not so sure that they would reason thus. Preparations and unexpected events would be the result.

One would have thought that a man with half a million armed troops would be able to do anything he wanted to do. He would be able to do anything he wanted to do.

It is like the old children game of guessing with marbles. You hold a certain number of marbles in your hand behind your back and invite your opponent to guess whether the number is odd or even.

If you know the calibre of your opponent's mind, you can outguess him every time. He will not be able to outguess you.

We must not forget that we are up against high intelligence in Germany.

The very fact that Hess's flight to Britain is so preposterous and unbelievable might be the reason why it would thus attract the attention of the world.

Hillier knows too, or we presume he knows, that the truth, if told after the fashion of a rambling and junk of the Virginia Gossip by the Paragon.

The British are just smart enough to think that Hess is lying. Therefore, they will believe that the truth and they won't believe a word of it.

Or he might say us the compliment of ranking our intelligence a notch higher. He might say.

Therefore they will suspect Hess of telling the truth to mislead them. I will have Hess tell them a pack of lies and they will swallow them, because they will believe it is the truth.

Just the old marble game.

Like the Tories, we should fear those fellows who drop down on Scottish turp potatoes bearing gifts.

There is the further possibility that the Germans are right and that Hess is innocent. One news service said the man was highly nervous and talked about "coming to leave."

I leave it to you to judge whether or not the British would throw away this possibility of a spy mission.

Even if the fellow were as petty as a squirrel.

Brooklyn—Where The Bronx Cheer Reigns Supreme

If you wish to see the face of fans go to Brooklyn. Mosthere in the world does this reveal a more sublime faith than that which blooms in the eyes of the Brooklyn fan for the beloved Dodgers. Flatbush Fans Never Hit Real Stride Until Dodgers Enter Protracted Slump

NEW YORK, May 14—(NEA)—With players and customers alike, the old Brooklyn do-or-die spirit appears to have been left in the press build-up. The noble athletes and the flustered fans to have oversold themselves on overconfidence. A protracted losing streak will correct this situation.

Operation Clubs Impossible Unless Rink Problem Solved

That it will be impossible to carry on junior hockey in Edmonton with any degree of success, appears to be the general consensus of club executives and fans alike unless a satisfactory solution of the impending rink difficulties can be found.

Tentative plans made by the various junior clubs in the city are naturally framed on the premise that a suitable covered rink will be available both for practices and games and unless one can be secured, it is extremely doubtful if any of the clubs will be able to function.

While of course it is not definitely known yet that the arena will be available next year, it is naturally to be assumed that the building will be acquired by the Dominion government in view of the suggested arrangement and it follows that there will be no ice surface in that building next winter.

CANADIANS HARD HIT
While all three junior clubs in the city will be affected if there is no ice surface, it will be a particularly tough break for the Canadians.

The Canucks have been taking on the club in junior circles recently, more so perhaps last year, but the previous season did not get an early start.

The officials in charge of the Canadian Athletic Club decided this year to see a team that would have the experience of championship calibre and have been busy for several weeks with the result that arrangements were made to have at least a half dozen outstanding juniors available for last year of whom is arriving this week.

From present appearances it looks as if the plans will have to be cancelled and the other players have been advised of the situation.

MEETING FRIDAY
A junior league meeting has been called for Friday night when the situation will be discussed.

When asked as to the possibility of an "hockey generally" league, the manager of the Flyers stated that he wanted to wait to see what happens. He however stated that the situation will be discussed and he will not have to make the final decision.

The meeting of the senior Alberta League was also called for June 1st and will be held at the arena.

A meeting is to be held at the club headquarters on Sunday night at 6:30 p.m. when final plans will be made for the event.

Lou Boudreau's Homer Hands Bob Feller Sixth Victory Of Season

Chicago Coach Confident Novikov Will Make Good

CHICAGO, May 14.—(AP)—As Coach Charley Grimm of Chicago Cubs sees it, Lou Novikov's early-season letdown was perfectly natural after that terrific pre-season buildup—But Grimm is willing to wager a few bob now that Lou has found himself at last.

True, the batting average won't prove Novikov a great hitter as yet, for on Tuesday he had hit only .225 through five games. But Grimm believes the former outfielder really has been hitting and throwing. He has hit and thrown well. "There's absolutely no question in my mind that he can and will," said Grimm. "His power, his ability to make outliners and his arm are all there. It's just a matter of time before he can do it all."

Iowa Farm Boy Strikes Out Nine Yanks, Allows Six Hits

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—Lou Boudreau sliced a homer run into the right field stands of Yankee stadium in the 10th inning Tuesday to hand Bob Feller and Cleveland Indians a 2-1 American League victory over New York Yankees.

It was a well-earned triumph for Feller, his sixth of the season against two defeats, but he might have had it easier except for a mental lapse by the Indians' infield in the sixth inning when the Yankees scored their only run.

Tip: In first time for 25 years, Feller pitched for the Yankees. He had pitched for the Yankees for 25 years, but never as a pitcher.

DIZZY DEAN ASKS TO BE PLACED ON RETIRED LIST

CHICAGO, May 14.—(AP)—James Gallagher, general manager of Chicago Cubs, announced today that Dizzy Dean, one of baseball's most sensational characters of the last decade, will be placed on the retired list.

Gallagher said Dean was sending him a letter to that effect, and that the letter would be forwarded to the National League.

The Cubs would probably accept Dean's request, but it would be subject to the approval of the National League.

Dean, 30, was born in St. Louis, Mo., and played for the Cubs from 1927 to 1935.

He was a right-handed pitcher, and was known for his fast ball.

INCREASE IN MILK PRICE ASKED HERE

Producers Say Higher Living, Labor Costs Justify Request

Increase of 40 cents per 100 pounds of tested milk is being asked by the producers in the Edmonton milk shed in an application to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, hearing of which opened Wednesday at the courthouse with G. M. Macleod, K.C., chairman of the board, presiding.

The application for the price increase is based on increased living and labor costs, and also on the fact that the cost of production has increased in certain portions of 10 cents per pound of butterfat.

A large number of producers in the Edmonton shed attended the hearing which is expected to take place over two days. The producers are represented by R. H. M. Macleod, president of the Edmonton Milk Producers' Association, and C. S. Solomon, T. F. Gordon, K.C., and G. M. Macleod, K.C., who are representing the city and the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners. The hearing is being held in the courtroom of the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, hearing of which opened Wednesday at the courthouse with G. M. Macleod, K.C., chairman of the board, presiding.

Mr. Patterson, representing various economic development, federal department of agriculture, has presented a survey of milk production made in the Edmonton milk shed which revealed an average production of 100 pounds of milk was 17.5 cents. The survey was made on the basis of operations of 47 wholesale shippers. Mr. Patterson explained.

He told the commission that the survey showed that 23 of the farms produced less than 200 pounds of butterfat per cow, at an average cost of $1.80 per 100 pounds, and that 24 farms produced over the amount at an average cost of $1.75.

Asked by Mr. Gordon whether it was fair to ask consumers to meet inefficient production costs, Mr. Patterson said that the commission should not do so.

R. H. M. Macleod, president of the National Milk Producers' Association, said that labor costs had materially increased and that the commission should take a share of the milk in the shed, he said.

Commons Unlikely To Be Repaired For Long Time To Come

LONDON, May 14.—(CP)—Prime Minister Churchill had members of the House of Commons today he believed the house debating chamber in which they and their predecessors have sat had been bombed beyond repair "at least for a very long time to come."

"I think the House, as you say, is informed we have already begun the preparation of another."

He stressed, however, that the new debating chamber would not be a copy of the old one, but a new design.

FLAG SALUTE EXERCISE SET FOR CHILDREN

School Trustees Approve
Patriotic Pledge For City Pupils

On recommendation of the management and holding committee, the Edmonton school board approved a revised version of the board's regulations covering the observance of patriotic exercises in the schools. Tuesday night, A. E. Oleitich, chairman, presided at the meeting.

Prepared by Supt. Ross S. Sheppard and Secretary H. G. Turner, at the request of the management and health committee, the new regulation states that the board goes on record as "approving the policy of conducting patriotic exercises in the schools, such exercises to include the saluting of the flag and reciting the pledge of allegiance and the national motto."

The board requests the cooperation of the teachers in arranging that the pupils be given leadership and direction regarding saluting the flag and reciting the pledge in unison.

MUST SALUTE FLAG

"Therefore this board hereby directs and requires that patriotic exercises be conducted in each school from time to time as directed by the superintendent of schools. This board also directs and requires that as part of such patriotic exercises each pupil shall salute the flag and recite in unison the following pledge: 'I pledge my allegiance to my flag and to my country, and to her 1 pledge my soul and myself.'"

Question of the five children, suspended from school for not saluting the flag, was referred to a department for further investigation, at a meeting of the management and health committee of the board last Tuesday.

Unanimous approval of the new wording, which is believed to allow for no "loopholes," was given at the board meeting.

A. E. Oleitich, chairman of the board, Ross S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, H. G. Turner, secretary-treasurer, were present at the meeting. The meeting was held in the board room at the Calgary school board building.

Visitor Seeking Support For United Palestine Appeal Here

Dual Winner

Bernice McBeth
young Edmonton mezzo-soprano, who won the open mezzo-soprano solo events at the Alberta music festival on Tuesday.

Responsible for instituting and securing passage of resolutions in favor of Palestine as a Jewish homeland, Eliahu D. Sine of Boston arrived in Edmonton Tuesday night to confer with officials of the United Palestine Appeal here. John Dwyer is chairman of the appeal in Edmonton.

During the past eight years, the Palestine appeal has absorbed 200,000 Jewish refugees, some 24,000 of which went to Palestine during the first year of the war. Mr. Sine stated, Wednesday, "At present there are 200,000 Jews in Palestine, including the refugees."

The story of Palestine is an "epic of modern times," he stated, telling of the agricultural settlements and industrial plants, which have been set up by the self-supporting colonies.

WITH BRITISH FORCES
Jews from the colony, numbering 1,000, are enrolled with the British forces in the Middle East and have been serving under General Wavell, he stated. He said he would be leaving for London in a few days.

Mr. Sine was for some years a member of the Massachusetts legislature. It was through his efforts that the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts was included in the year 1922, leaving the passage in the United States congress of the Balfour Declaration.

He said that the Balfour Declaration was the result of the Jewish Home movement, which was founded in the early 1900s.

Undernourishment In Families Is Revealed After Survey Here

TWO SCHOOL BUILDINGS TO COST $75,000

There are 60 per cent of Edmonton's average families inadequately fed, it was revealed by Dr. George Hunter, University of Alberta home science professor, at a meeting of the health division of the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies, held in the Child Welfare Clinic, Tuesday night.

Dr. Hunter referred to facts based on a recent survey of nutrition conditions of Edmonton families with the $500-$1,500 income bracket. The survey was sponsored by the National Nutrition Council and Dr. Hunter added that the most prevalent cause of undernourishment was the gross deficiencies in the diet of adolescents, mothers and in calcium, iron and vitamins B and C in the diets of children under 12.

Better social conditions and education regarding nutrition requirements were suggested as essential in remedying these inadequacies.

J. G. Nickerson, president of the Family Welfare division, was in the chair and members of that division and nutrition experts attended the meeting. Mrs. Ross Vant led the discussion.

Construction of an auditorium and teaching building on the Garneau school grounds, South Side, is to be used in Normal school work, will be made at an estimated cost of $75,000, it was announced Wednesday by Hon. W. A. Fallick, minister of public works.

These two buildings will be erected to accommodate the Normal school which is being moved to the Garneau school. The Normal school building is being transferred to the Dominion government in connection with the Empire Air Training plan which was handed over June 18.

The Dominion government is making a grant toward the construction of the buildings and this will be supplemented by the Edmonton public school board.

The buildings will be a two-story brick structure, 60 by 20 feet. There will be six rooms, four of which will be used by the Normal school and two by the school board.

Further developments in the relations by which the Dominion takes over the three University of Alberta residential buildings, the St. Joseph College dormitory and the Edmonton Exhibition Association plan are pending.

The board level in the United States is in Death Valley, Calif., 28 feet below sea level.
